ExOfficio Wick Dry Undies

With an ad campaign of 6 countries, 17 days and 1 pair of underwear (well - maybe two!) - you can't go wrong. They may seem expensive but they are worth every penny. Our staff can testify to their comfort and ability to keep you dry. They prevent chaffing and remain odor free even after days of wear. Cotton Beware!

Sleeping Bags

The SlumberJack TourLite bag will last for many a campout. Choose from the 40 or 60 degree bag. This lightweight backpacking sleeping bag is a modified mummy style. Lightweight and packable - this is a MUST HAVE. Colors may vary.

Camping Pillow

A little wonder and a lot of comfort. This Kelty camp pillow will pack small and fluff back up.

Pack Towels

This isn't your bath towel from home. MSR's Personal Packtowl's absorb 4 times their weight.

Ultra soft, antimicrobial and quick drying.

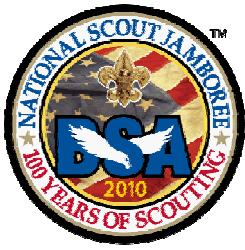

Rain Jackets

Choose from the Sierra Designs Hurricane or Cyclone. The Cyclone provides enhanced breathability with hood that packs into collar. Both have pit zips for ventilation and are water proof.
